

JENNY REID PROFILE

Jenny Reid is the pioneering trail-blazer behind The Orange.

The Orange is a personal development, health and wellness, career development and retirement planning organisation.

With a career spanning more than 35 years, Jenny continues to show her strength in personal and career development. Where others see challenges, she forecasts solutions.

Her robust experience has earned her respect, while her fearless attitude is admired by peers, media and clients. Jenny is a sought-after speaker at conferences both in South Africa and abroad.

Jenny developed a passion for employee screening early on in her career, and established one of the leading employee screening companies, iFacts.

After a horrific accident that impacted her personally, Jenny took her idea of looking for a more balanced life a step further, and developed a holistic employee enhancement programme, aimed at helping business owners create an honest, loyal, productive and satisfied workforce.

Jenny is a Certified NLP Master Life Coach, specialising in personal development, health & wellness, career development and retirement planning. She is a member of the African National Healers Association. She holds certification in Nutrition, Retirement, Aromatherapy, Time Line Therapy, Hypnotherapy, Reflexology and Meridian Therapy.

Her experience, insights and sharp analysis is valued by organisers and audiences. Her fearless attitude and tireless energy have made her an inspiration and mentor.
